

New York State Children's Environmental Health Centers

NYSCHECK.ORG

Your Voice Matters! Environmental Health Starts with You!

Calling all New York Artists preK-Grade 12

October is Children's Health Month. NYSCEHC is looking for creative young artists to submit their original artwork that will be posted on NYSCHECK.org, on NYSCEHC social media platforms, and presented at our Children's Environmental Health Day celebration in October! Prizes will be given to contest winners.

What is the "environment"?

The environment is everything in the world around us – including our food, water, air, and community. It is where we live, learn and play and it can affect how healthy we can be.

Contest Details

What does a healthy New York look like to you?

Create a work of art that conveys the message that the best possible environment promotes health and happiness for the people who live in it.

Submit your drawings by September 27th, 2019

You may create your artwork on the submission form provided, or create your artwork on its own.

Submit online: Take a photo of your artwork or submission form and submit via this link <http://j.mp/2OISl24> or via the "submit here" QR Code.

Submit via mail: Complete the artist info sheet and mail in your submission form and artist info sheet to our mailing address (above, right).

For the submission form and more details, please visit nyscheck.org/art-contest-2019

Due September 27th

Prizes for winners

#youthvoicematters

Mailing Address:

NYSCEHC Art Contest
One Gustave L. Levy Place
Box 1057
Icahn School of Medicine
at Mount Sinai
New York, NY 10029

More info

Submit here

